March 2013 | TRANSITIONS | SPECIAL EDITION

What's in THC's new website?

Welcome to Transitional Housing Corporation's (THC) new website. We are excited to share the stories of THC families, staff and volunteers in a more interactive way! This will be a place where you can learn about what we do, ways that you can get involved, and up-to-date news on housing and homelessness in DC. Be the first to check it out and please let us know what you think!

New features include a THC Blog, history of THC, social media integration, THC partnerships and advanced multi-media capabilities (embedded Prezi and YouTube videos). If you don't know what a Prezi is, check it out here!

THC Blog

Stay up-to-date with our new THC Blog. Blog entries include news on homelessness, volunteer opportunities, events in our community and more. Our blog will feature guest writers/photographers and special stories to keep you informed about how we are ending homelessness in DC.

Social Media Integration

The website integrates THC's social media sites into our web pages. Like us, tweet your favorite pages and watch YouTube videos embedded on the page. Make sure to follow us on Facebook, Twitter and YouTube. We are trying to reach 500 followers by July 2014!

Infographics

In our new website, we not only use words, photos and videos to tell our story -- but also, infographics! These pictures, through the use of creative graphics, illustrate in a different way, our programs and the reach of the work that we do. Check out our landing pages like Ending Homelessness, Housing Families, and Transforming Lives to see them in action!
